MADE WITH GOODNESS

About Good Deeds Day

WHAT WE DO

Every year, we support global changemakers who desire living in a better world, to take impactful action by providing tools, inspiration, and a connected global network - because we believe that every person has the power to create positive change in their community and our world.

Initiated in 2007 by philanthropist and businesswoman Shari Arison, the first Good Deeds Day kicked off with 7,000 volunteers in Israel.

Every year since then, Good Deeds Day unites people from around the world for one day dedicated to #DoingGood. Of course, we believe doing good is for every day. Yet gathering together for one day inspires a whole world of good.

About Good Deeds Day

WHY WE DO IT

We are a network of volunteers who choose to organize events, improve our communities, and share resources and inspiration - all based on the simple idea that every single person can do something good, large or small, to improve the lives of others and positively change the world.

Our big vision is to create a world where good leads the way.

About Good Deeds Day

WHO WE ARE

Good Deeds Day International is a small team dedicated to supporting nonprofits, organizations and individuals do good in their community.

We work with partners in over 108 countries, who consist of millions of volunteers dedicated to creating a world where good leads the way.

Good Deeds Day was launched and organized by the NGO Ruach Tova ("Good Spirit"), an Israel-based national volunteer center, and part of The Ted Arison Family Foundation, the philanthropic arm of the Arison Group.

Evolution of Good Deeds Day

2007

Initiated by philanthropist and businesswoman Shari Arison, the first Good Deeds Day kicked off with 7,000 volunteers in Israel.

2011

Good Deeds Day went global, with events in over 10 international cities.

2012

We reached Europe and teamed up with MTV Global, reaching over 24 million viewers.

2013

Volunteers from 50 countries took part in hundreds of projects, including a kick-off with ABC Network in NYC.

2014

The whole world jumped for good! We collaborated with leading volunteer organizations to spread more good, and over 500,000 people took part! Since then, our team, our partners, and our good have grown to reach millions.

2019

We held our largest Good Deeds Day to date, with over 3,900,000 volunteers from 108 countries. That's almost 8 million hours of service!

2020

While we couldn't hold an official event, hundreds of thousands of virtual volunteers showed up - and finally...

TODAY

We are a global movement of people and organizations dedicated to doing good every day. We meet annually on Good Deeds Day, committing to showing up for our world - and using it as a central meeting point to gain meaningful momentum to kick off another year of doing good every day.

How to Get Involved

STEP 1
Identify your Community Needs

STEP 2
Determine your Resources

STEP 3
Commit to an Event

STEP 6
Report + Celebrate
the Good!

STEP 5
Organize +
Promote Event

STEP 4

STEP 1
Identify your Community Needs

FIRST ASK YOURSELF

- What project can respond to your specific community needs and factors?
- What is the problem you would like to and can address?
- What Sustainable Development Goal are you passionate about supporting?
- What is the problem we would like to address?
- What is the population you would like to serve?

THEN

- Visit the Good Deeds Day Get Ideas section to discover hundreds of ideas.
- Research community projects and needs, while speaking to the local community to discover where you can fill a gap and do good
- If you cannot conduct the event in person, visit our DO GOOD FROM HOME section

STEP 2

Determine Your Resources

FIRST ASK YOURSELF

- What are your resources?
- Do you have a group of volunteers or a team of people ready to go? Do you want to organize your event alone or with partners?
- How much time do you have and how much time do you need to create the impact you want?
- Do you have access to space to hold an event? Who can you connect with who can support this?
 - Is there space within the organization you have, do you need to rent a room, or do you want to organize something in a city park and you need to ask permission from the local authority?
- Do you have funding? What will it cost for materials, space, food and drink, printing, transport, photography, vendors, etc?
 - If you need to raise funds, determine which sponsors are appropriate for your project. Why they will be potentially interested in supporting your event.

STEP 3

Commit to an Event

FIRST ASK YOURSELF

- Knowing all your resources in regard to time, budget, and team, what kind of event can you commit to which will best serve your community?
- Is it something you'd like to do onetime, or will it be an annual happening?

THEN

Decide if you want to do a smaller event or if you have the resources and opportunities for something big. Be realistic and decide what is suitable for you

- How many partners and volunteers do you have?
- Set a realistic cost estimate, set a budget.
- Start to approach your sponsors.
- Start to approach a new partners.

STEP 5

Organize + Promote Your Event

PLANNING YOUR EVENT

What are the components of the event?

- What is our main event purpose?
- How many people will we have?
- Where and when will we have it?
- What activities will we have?
- Who are our volunteers? Who are our vendors?
- Do we need a leadership team?
- How much budget do we need? How much do we have?
- Who are the strategic partners we should connect with?
- Who will document our event? Photographer, videographer, or both?
- How will we promote the event?
- Who will create our graphics, signage, and promotional materials?

SPREAD THE WORD

No matter how big or small your event may be! Some ideas:

- Use social media pages and groups, create FB event
- Invite local TV stations and press agents
- Connect with local government representatives

STEP 6

Report + Celebrate
Your Good!

AFTER THE EVENT

Review the event. Did it go according to plan? Make a list of realizations and celebrations to take stock of any improvements or things you would do differently for future events.

Thank your volunteers. Send personal messages or use our Certificate of Gratitude, or read our blogs to show appreciation.

Tell us how it went! Fill out the post-GDD report to share a recap of your good, and upload your pictures and videos so that we can include you in our Good Deeds Day news!

DON'T FORGET TO
